Streaming to your One Flow, Sensia 200D Connect or Evoke F4 as well as to your Jongo

A new software update has been released. This now allows you to select the Sensia 200D Connect and One Flow so you can send audio to and control their volume individually.

NOTE: This can now only be done using an Android device. It's no longer possible to do this using an Apple device running IOS 11 and up.
