I have an Evoke C-F6 or Evoke F3 and I could not find the internet radio station of my choice in the database

Sarah Spencer - 2021-10-19 - General Internet Radio Questions

If the radio station that you are looking for on your Evoke F3 or Evoke C-F6 is not available in the Internet Radio station database, or there appears to be an issue with a broken link, you can open a ticket with Frontier Nuvola who will be happy to resolve this.

Simply go to Frontier Nuvola to open a support request directly with the internet radio service provider.

When making requests for a new station to be added, please ensure you mention the following details:

- Station Name
- Country
- Website

This station will then be added in due course. Please note that there may be some rare instances where it may not be possible to add certain stations if the streaming format is not compatible.
