

Knowledgebase > Internet radios > Evoke F3 with Bluetooth > Adding channels to "My Favourites" and organising the channels (Internet source only)

Adding channels to "My Favourites" and organising the channels (Internet source only)

Laura - 2021-10-19 - Evoke F3 with Bluetooth

Before you start you must be registered and logged in to your Flow account to be able to save a station as a favourite. Once logged in, click 'Flow Radio' and use the 'Search' and/or filter functions to find a station you want to save. Once found you will see a heart on the bottom left of the station. If you click this it will add the station to your favourites

Your station is now saved.

You can now organise your favourites into folders (We call them labels)

You need to log into your Pure Flow account click My Favourites> click 'Label' on your selected station; here you can enter a new label, or save to an existing label by putting a tick in the box and clicking 'save'

These changes will be reflected on the radio, your Flow account and on the Pure Select App

Tags

Evoke C-F6

Evoke F3

Flow Live

Internet Radio