BBC Local Radio Station Disruption on Internet Radio Services

2021-07-29 - Sarah Spencer - Internet Radio

Dear customer,

We would like to inform you that there is some temporary disruption to local BBC Radio stations broadcast on internet radio, due to the Olympic games. This disruption is due to rights issues and is unfortunately outside of our control.

The Tokyo 2020 Olympics are set to finish on Sunday 8 August. After this date, BBC radio stations will stream as normal for both international listeners, and UK listeners on affected devices.

You can read more about this over on the BBC website by clicking here.

Thank you for your understanding.
